

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION

Ogletree was named as a member firm of the inaugural Bloomberg Law Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Framework.

Ogletree Deakins was one of only 50 law firms selected as a “Best Law Firm for Women.”

Ogletree Deakins in one of only 29 U.S. law firms to be awarded the 2021 Gold Standard Certification from the Women in Law Empowerment.

Ogletree Deakins has been recognized by the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity with the Compass Award designation. This award recognizes top engagement and participation levels of their member firms.

Ogletree was one of twenty firms (with 501+ lawyers) named a top scoring law firm by the Minority Corporate Counsel Association (MCCA)'s inaugural Diversity Scorecard.

Ogletree Deakins placed in the top 5 in Law360's 2020 Glass Ceiling Report, which ranks the top firms based on their percentage of female lawyers and female equity partners.

Ogletree Deakins is participating in the Mansfield 5.0 Certification process, launched on July 15, 2021.

Ogletree Deakins Act, Change, Transform as a way for staff and attorneys to take concrete actions aimed at improving racial inequities in the legal profession and in our communities.

Ogletree Deakins received a score of 100 on the Human Rights Campaign Foundation's Corporate Equality Index, the nation's foremost benchmarking measuring corporate policies and practices for LGBTQ workplace equality.

In 2021, the Berlin office of Ogletree Deakins International signed the Charter of Vielfalt, an employer initiative to promote diversity in companies and institutions.

Ogletree Deakins is a member of NOTICED, the UK's first inter-firm diversity network.

Ogletree Deakins is a long-standing active law firm member of the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity.

Ogletree Deakins is a signatory of the Law Firm Anti-Racism Alliance, a coalition to promote racial equity in the law.

Ogletree Deakins received Diversity & Flexibility Alliance's Tipping the Scale Award, for the 2nd time in 2021

Ogletree Deakins is proud to partner with Mindful Return to help support parents returning to work after parental leave.

Ogletree Deakins is proud to support the Institute for Inclusion in the Legal Profession's work to have more open, honest discussion around diversity, inclusion, and equity in the legal industry.

Ogletree Deakins is a proud sponsor of Women in Law Empowerment Forum and holds six spots on their Global Advisory Board.

