AGENDA

- 1:00 – 1:30 p.m. REGISTRATION
- 1:30 – 2:15 p.m. WORKPLACE VIOLENCE: SEE WHAT? SAY WHAT?
Employers and employees often hear “if you see something, say something,” but are not quite sure what to look for when it comes to workplace violence. Additionally, many report not knowing what to do if they have concerns about potential violence. This session will discuss the risk factors and warning signs, and “must haves” for preventing, recognizing, and responding to acts of violence in the workplace.
Presenter: Dennis A. Davis, Ph.D., Ogletree Deakins
- 2:15 – 3:00 p.m. ACTIVE SHOOTER TRAINING
Special Agent Richard Florence, an experienced FBI active shooter trainer, will provide an overview of what you need to know to effectively train your workforce in the event of an active shooter threat. The presentation will include training elements, audiences, best practices, and resources for training programs.
Presenter: Richard Florence, Federal Bureau of Investigation
- 3:00 – 3:15 p.m. BREAK
- 3:15 – 4:00 p.m. CORPORATE SECURITY BEST PRACTICES: HOW TO BETTER MANAGE RISKS
During this session, the speakers will discuss the physical and technical security best practices that help organizations manage risks to their personnel, operations, performance, and reputation. Learn how to identify critical gaps in physical and technical security and how you can address them with advanced security measures, training, and workplace violence prevention strategies.
Presenters: G. Douglas Bullock, III, Hillard Heintze
Mike White, Hillard Heintze
- 4:00 – 5:00 p.m. PANEL DISCUSSION: TACKLING THE TOUGH SAFETY AND SECURITY TOPICS
The panel will address additional security risks and areas of interest, including due diligence and background checks, facility security design/build and implementation, legal surveillance issues, and attorney-client privileged threat assessments. The panel will also answer questions from the audience.
Moderator: Rebecca J. Bennett, Ogletree Deakins
