ATTENDANCE

This is a CLE-based ethics program designed for attorneys only.

DESCRIPTION

As advocates for our clients, we are ingrained with the notion that we are not biased. The reality is that we are all biased—it's human nature.

At any given moment, we make snap judgments about others based on their race, age, gender, or other characteristics by relying on our unconscious biases. Unconscious biases in the legal profession, however, hinder diversity, recruiting, and retention efforts.

In this one-hour session, we will discuss how you develop unconscious biases, how you can become aware of your biases, and how to interrupt them.
