DESCRIPTION

January 4, 2022, is the deadline to ensure that your workforce is fully vaccinated, if your organization has certain healthcare facilities participating in Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement programs that are now subject to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services' (CMS) new vaccination mandate regulation. The CMS rule does not include a weekly COVID-19 testing option and takes priority over all the federal vaccine mandates, including the federal contractor requirements and the OSHA emergency temporary standard (ETS) for large employers. This webinar will address the details of the sweeping new federal COVID-19 vaccination requirements that will dramatically impact a majority of the healthcare industry. The speakers will cover what healthcare employers should know, which federal and state rules apply, and how to comply by the deadline.
