DESCRIPTION

Florida employers continue to be impacted by the COVID-19 pandemic and are taking measures to protect both their businesses and employees. Further, Governor Ron DeSantis and several communities are developing plans to ease the shelter-in-place requirements and get employees back to work. In this webinar, the speakers will address the following topics:

- the interplay between Florida's regulations regarding unemployment compensation and benefits provided under the federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act;
- strategies to implement furloughs, layoffs, and reductions in hours that comply with Florida employment laws; and
- developing plans now on how to safely and legally bring employees back to work.
