DESCRIPTION

On April 21, 2022, the California Occupational Safety and Health Standards Board will vote on proposed revisions to the COVID-19 Prevention Emergency Temporary Standards (ETS), which if adopted would be effective from May 2022 through December 31, 2022. The proposed revisions include changes to the requirements related to testing, face coverings, exclusion from work, and more. Join our experienced California workplace safety practitioners, Karen Tynan and Jennifer Yanni, as they review the changes and examine workplace COVID-19 scenarios and situations where these revisions could apply. They will also discuss compliance strategies and benchmarking across the Golden State.
