DESCRIPTION

One year ago, the Supreme Court of California issued its landmark ruling in Dynamex, establishing the ABC test as a basis for determining whether a worker is an employee or independent contractor under the California wage orders. Since that time, companies, courts, the California State Legislature, and the state's enforcing agencies have been grappling with what the new test means for California's long-established independent contractor and freelance workforce. This informative webinar will:

- provide the latest on how Dynamex is being interpreted by the courts;
- explain how the ABC test is being applied; and
- identify steps each company may want to take to comply with the ABC test.
