

AI at Work: California's New Rules of the Road for 2026 and Beyond

From the California Civil Rights Department's automated decision-making regulations under the Fair Employment and Housing Act to the new laws restricting AI-only decisions on discipline and termination, California has moved quickly on workplace AI oversight. In this webinar, the speakers will break down what is already in effect, what is coming in 2027, and the practical steps employers should take now to manage hiring tools, performance systems, and AI-driven workforce decisions without triggering liability.
