DESCRIPTION

As the country has more fully emerged from the pandemic, and as some Biden administration efforts have stalled in the courts, employers are likely to see an increase in I-9 audits and enforcement activity. U.S. Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) has shifted its focus away from undocumented workers and toward employers. In addition, the U.S. Departments of Justice, State, and Labor, as well as a multitude of other federal and state agencies have joined ICE in pursuing these enforcement objectives. In this webinar, the speakers will provide legal updates, highlight effective compliance policies, discuss steps your company can take to prepare for the anticipated increase in multi-agency enforcement efforts, and answer your questions about best practices.
