DESCRIPTION

In this installment of our webinar series discussing the essential elements and procedures needed for implementation of mandatory COVID-19 vaccination policies and processing of medical/religious exemption requests, the speakers will discuss the latest best practices, pitfalls, and legal guidance regarding these issues. And, on September 9, 2021, President Joe Biden announced sweeping requirements through an executive order, including mandating that all private employers with 100 or more employees require vaccinations and/or weekly testing, that all healthcare employers who participate in Medicare and Medicaid require vaccination, and that all executive-agency employees and some employees of federal contractors and subcontractors be vaccinated. The speakers will address these landmark issues and more.
