

Massachusetts Wage Act: Strict Liability and Treble Damages Refresher

Employers face strict and potentially costly obligations when discharging employees in Massachusetts. This webinar will examine the Massachusetts Wage Act's requirement for timely payments for current employees and how to appropriately render final payment for involuntary terminations. The speakers will also cover how even a one-day delay in payment can result in automatic treble damages, interest, and class-wide exposure. Join us for an update on compliant practices for final pay, tips on minimizing legal risks, and insights into current wage and hour trends.
