Join us for a timely discussion on the recent leadership changes at the Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP) and the revocation of Executive Order (EO) 11246. In the press release introducing the new director, she stated that EO 11246 “facilitated federal contractors adopting DEI practices out of step with the requirements of our Nation’s civil rights laws” and that she would oversee the agency’s “transition to its new scope of mission.” This webinar will provide insights into these developments, possible OFCCP enforcement priorities, and the impact on compliance obligations for federal contractors. The speakers will discuss potential risks, trends to monitor, and how contractors can start preparing now for the changes ahead.
