

OGLETREE DEAKINS

WEBINAR

OSHA HOUR: THE OCCUPATIONAL SAFETY AND HEALTH ISSUES RAISED BY RETURNING EMPLOYEES TO WORK IN NONESSENTIAL INDUSTRIES

SPEAKERS

Bindu R. Gross (Dallas)
David L. Zwisler (Denver)
Eric E. Hobbs, Moderator

DATE

Thursday, June 18, 2020

TIME

11:00 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. Pacific
12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m. Mountain
1:00 p.m. – 2:00 p.m. Central
2:00 p.m. – 3:00 p.m. Eastern

COST

$99.00

Complimentary for Ogletree Deakins clients

DESCRIPTION

Finally! It is time in most states to get employees in nonessential industries back to work. However, as employers put plans in place to do so, they are facing a variety of difficult issues: Which guidelines or mandates must they follow to protect employees (and, in many industries, customers and clients) when they reopen? How do employers assure their employees that returning to the workplace is safe? How do employers handle employees who may be fearful of coming back to the jobsite? How do employers manage those who refuse to return to work? How do employers handle employees who are members of vulnerable populations? In this webinar, the speakers will address these questions and other issues related to reopening businesses safely and in compliance with the law.

Ogletree
Deakins

REGISTRATION

Register online at www.ogletree.com or contact Marilu Oliver at (404) 870-1755 or webinars@ogletree.com.

Instructions for participation will be circulated before the webinar. Please note that CLE and HRCI/SHRM credit will not be available for this program.