DESCRIPTION

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has been active on the enforcement front and has several significant rulemakings underway. In addition, OSHA's data and rhetoric indicate that the agency is adopting a more aggressive approach than it has in years. In this webinar, the speakers will discuss the industries that OSHA is hitting the hardest and provide tips for effectively dealing with new OSHA enforcement policies that may mean more citations and higher penalties for employers. The speakers also will review real-world examples and share best practices for effectively handling OSHA enforcement and managing the risk of corporate liability.
