With a new administration keen on impacting tax law and several key payroll provisions from the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017 set to expire at the end of the year, staying informed about the dynamic legislative and regulatory changes in 2025 is essential for businesses. Making informed decisions can help organizations maximize available tax credits and mitigate their exposure to potential risks. In this session, the speakers will discuss important topics in payroll tax, including the Work Opportunity Tax Credit, paid family leave tax reporting, and legislative and compliance updates to expect in 2025.
