The main objectives of the Uniformed Services Employment and Reemployment Rights Act (USERRA) are to encourage noncareer uniformed service, to minimize disruption to service members and their employers, and to prohibit discrimination because of service. This session will address employees' and employers' rights and obligations under USERRA and will explore scenarios to demonstrate how USERRA applies in a broad variety of situations. Our speaker will cover these key topics:

- Which employers are covered
- Who is protected
- Exceptions to reinstatement
- Return-to-work issues
- Prohibited actions
- Documentation
- Benefits during and after leave
- Enforcement actions
