

Proposed Amendments to New Jersey Wage Payment Law Would Permit Payment by Debit Cards

January 14, 2014

By Steven J. Luckner

On November 18, 2013, the Assembly introduced a bill (A4424) amending the current wage payment law to permit employers to pay wages by deposit in a payroll debit card account. This practice is already permitted by regulations promulgated by the New Jersey Department of Labor, but not by statute.

On November 18, 2013, the Assembly introduced a bill (A4424) amending the current wage payment law to permit employers to pay wages by deposit in a payroll debit card account. This practice is already permitted by regulations promulgated by the New Jersey Department of Labor, but not by statute.

AUTHOR

Steven J. Luckner

Office Managing Shareholder, Morristown

TOPICS

Employment Law